

MOSELEY RUGBY CLUB

24-Jan-2012

RFU Championship

Moseley v Plymouth Albion

Friday 27th January, 7.30pm kick off at Billesley Common B13

“Moseley aims to even the score in entertaining fashion”

Moseley welcomes Plymouth Albion to Billesley Common under floodlights this Friday evening (27th January, 7.30pm kick off) with a score to settle. With Moseley's recent try scoring form it should also be an entertaining encounter.

In the reciprocal fixture at Brickfields early in the season Plymouth edged the match late in the game with a penalty try after the visitors were deemed to have collapsed a scrum. However the Moseley pack is much stronger now with all front row squad members challenging for first team places.

The Devonians have also won six Championship games to Moseley's five and, as each win earns a point in the relegation playoffs, a home win would even that up as well.

The Billesley outfit has recently been as generous to the opposition in defence as its attack has been prolific. Four tries were scored in both recent matches against in-form sides Leeds Carnegie and Rotherham Titans but similar numbers were conceded with lapses in defence.

Moseley lies in sixth place in terms of Championship points scored but rock bottom in numbers of points conceded. This may make a great viewing for the spectators but does nothing for the number of wins or the defence coach's blood pressure.

Both Moseley and Plymouth have difficult end of the season run ins where wins will be hard to come by. Moseley's final games include away trips to Bristol and Cornish Pirates with Bedford at home while Plymouth will entertain Nottingham at home and travel to Bedford and Esher.

Moseley's form has not been at its best at home this season so this week will be a massive opportunity to provide the Moseley Faithful with confidence that the players have the ability to retain the club's Championship status. Whatever happens, it is bound to be entertaining.

Ticketing & General enquiries:

www.moseleyrugby.co.uk ; Tel 0121 443 3631; info@moseleyrugby.co.uk

Moseley Rugby Club, Billesley Common, Yardley Wood Road, Birmingham B13 OPT